FAMILY PERSPECTIVE: The widow in today's gospel was in deep trouble. Her husband and her only son were dead. In that male dominated society women owned nothing and were totally dependent on men for their livelihood. She would be reduced to begging. Restoring her son to life, Jesus also restored the woman to life.

Most Rev. Richard E. Pates, Bishop of the Diocese of Des Moines, Iowa, recently summarized some principal dimensions of our life together that Pope Francis has emphasized, if we are to be concerned about human life and living our Gospel Values:

PEACE: It is the notion of one human family that has driven the vision of Pope Francis to overcome separation and bring people to the peace table. It is this same vision that has led the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops to advocate for renewing diplomatic relationships with Cuba and reaching agreement with Iran on its nuclear capability. Diplomacy, negotiation and most important, as Pope Francis insists, dialogue are far better than hostility and separation.

Divisions of people create fear and negativity and shroud the goodness in every human heart. The Berlin Wall, for instance, perpetuated the artificial separation of two peoples, creating tension and political conflict—a cold war. Aware of that history, as Pope Francis recently said, we do not need more walls. A wall between Mexico and the United States would speak loudly of our inability to resolve issues like immigration, our country’s insatiable appetite for drugs, the ensuing corruption and violence and the unraveling of education in Latin America.

In his visit to the Central African Republic, the pope raised the consequential role of weapons merchants who do lucrative business in supplying death machines to opposing military factions that do not have the common good at heart. In addition, the world still faces the specter of nuclear weapons that could evaporate Mother Earth. These threats to our humanity demand Christian as well as common-sense responses.

When I reflect on Christians seeking peace, I recall a U.N. official from Benin who was in charge of trying to bring peace to Cote d’Ivoire after its recent civil war. He demonstrated convictions and values at the heart of our Christian ethic: forgiveness, mercy, justice, compassion, dialogue, new beginnings, letting go of sentiments of hatred. When I expressed admiration for his putting into practice his convictions, he simply replied, “I am a Catholic, and my faith compels me to such action expressing the love of Christ.”

ECONOMY: “What are we going to do about the poor?” Pope Francis asked in response to an invitation to the Davos conference on economic activity in January. His position is well grounded in the Gospels, in the cultural heritage of South America and in the Catholic Church’s “preferential option for the poor.”

He urged Congress to “keep in mind all those people around us who are trapped in a cycle of poverty. They too need to be given hope. The fight against poverty must be fought consistently and on many fronts, especially its causes.” He added: “It goes without saying that part of this great effort is the creation and distribution of wealth. The right use of natural resources, the proper application of technology and the harnessing of the spirit of enterprise are essential elements of an economy that seeks to be modern, inclusive and sustainable.”

As we engage these issues, we identify with David as he battled Goliath. There are 62 billionaires in the world who have the total wealth of 3.6 billion people, approximately half the world’s inhabitants, combined. Furthermore the lack of education, joblessness, hunger, malnutrition, poor health and inadequate housing, lack of proper sanitation, corruption, poor government, etc. that the poor endure seem almost insurmountable. But our Christian convictions tell us we should engage without hesitation or fear.

En junio regresamos al Tiempo Ordinario, en que la progresión lógica es la insistente llamada a darse, a entregar la vida si es necesario, a compartir sin contar el costo sabiendo que el entregarlo todo nos lleva necesariamente a encontrarlo todo, a ganar la verdadera vida.

En junio se celebra la fiesta de San Juan Bautista. en muchos de nuestros países, y particularmente en Puerto Rico, que tiene a san Juan como patrón, la fiesta se celebra con muchas manifestaciones populares, que recuerdan el Bautismo y el espíritu, con las hogueras donde se quema lo viejo y se celebra la nueva creación.

El viernes siguiente a la fiesta del Corpus se celebra el Sagrado Corazón de Jesús, que vuelve a insistir en el inmenso amor de Dios y recuerda a las familias el modo en que deben tratarse unos a otros. Recuerda también a los padres cómo serlo verdaderamente. Muchas familias hispanas tienen la costumbre de entronizar al Sagrado Corazón en sus casas, como signo de que quieren que en ellas reine el amor. Al día siguiente se celebra el Inmaculado Corazón de María.

El día 27 marca la fiesta de Nuestra Señora del Perpetuo Socorro, una advocación que despierta una gran devoción que ha sido muy extendida por los Padres Redentoristas. Nuestra Señora del Perpetuo Socorro es, además, la patrona de Haití y en tiempos en que ese país padece una enorme devastación que viene a sumarse a su antigua pobreza, es importante observar este día como día de solidaridad con ese pueblo sufriente.

Junio marca además el final del año escolar; por lo tanto, es un buen momento para celebrar los logros de los hijos y mirar hacia el futuro con esperanza.

Conflenti es un pueblo de la región de Calabria, Italia. Allí, un pastor de nombre Lorenzo Folino vio a la Virgen María circundada de ángeles descender sobre un roble el 7 junio de 1578. Esta pidió la construcción de una iglesia al lado del roble donde se apareció, para protección de los habitantes de la ciudad.

El pueblo estuvo inclinado a la construcción del templo, desde el inicio; pero el proyecto no tuvo respaldo inmediato de las autoridades civiles y eclesiásticas. Así fue como durante 1578 y 1579 la Virgen se apareció muchas veces, a simples ciudadanos, realizando numerosos milagros, hasta que fue evidente que se trataba de un evento sobrenatural y la iglesia fue finalmente construida.

Muchos milagros y curaciones se han asociado a Nuestra Señora del Roble de Conflenti, a través de los siglos. Su fiesta principal se celebra el último domingo de agosto, pero se festeja también el 7 de junio, en recuerdo de su primera aparición. Nuestra Señora del Roble es también Patrona de Monterrey, México donde tiene su historia particular que data de 1592, con elementos comunes como la aparición de una pequeña imagen suya en la oquedad de un roble a una humilde pastora. En Monterrey, su fiesta patronal se celebra el 18 de diciembre y su coronación pontificia, el 31 de mayo.
